DAMAGE TRIAL ONLY CASE FOR THIS SESSION

Trial of the trespass action brought by Mrs. Elizabeth M. Finney, formerly of Harrisburg, against the G. C. Murphy Co., Baltimore St., continued in county court today.

The case by Monday afternoon had become the only civil suit for trial this term. A jury was to have been drawn Monday afternoon in the damage action brought by John W. Bream Sr., Orrtanna R. 1, against Gerald Dueweke, Oak Park, Mich., as a result of an accident involving a truck owned by Bream and Dueweke's car at the Gardner intersection on the Carlisle pike. Before the jury was called attorneys announced that the case had been continued for settlement. As a result, all jurors except those in the Finney trial were excused.

The question was raised in court Monday afternoon whether a number of the operations performed to Mrs. Finney's hip and the fact that she still walks on crutches might not have been due in part to the actions of a nurse following an operation at a Harrisburg hospital.

MAY HAVE CONTRIBUTED

Dr. George A. Fitzgerald, Harrisburg orthopedic surgeon, in cross examination said that following one of the first operations a nurse "unfamiliar with the case" in moving Mrs. Finney from an operating table moved her leg in such fashion that "it certainly didn't do it any good and possibly may have contributed to the failure of the hip to heal."

He added: "I would not actually say it was the cause of not healing but it might have been a contributing factor. I doubt if it was a major factor."

Kennedy Asks Heavy Levies On Trucks To Finance Highways, Or More Gas Tax; State Or Federal Control Of Billboards

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today proposed a tax formula for financing super-highways by placing a greater share of the burden on big trucks.

The President, in a 3,500-word special message to Congress, said his pay-as-you-go plan would complete 41,000 miles of express roads by 1972 without resort to a higher federal gasoline tax.

However, he said Congress should not permit a scheduled June 30 reduction in the gas tax from 4 cents a gallon to 3 cents. And he added that if his proposals for heavier levies on trucks are rejected, Congress should be prepared to increase gasoline taxes on all users.

BRUNT ON TRUCKERS

Kennedy's plan would boost taxes and fees on heavy trucks, diesel fuel, tires, tubes and retard rubber. While truckers would bear the brunt of these, Kennedy said even so they would not pay "their fair share of the cost of

TEACHERS TO GET PREVIEW ON NEW FILMS

Teachers from throughout Adams County will gather Thursday evening at the Keefeauver Elementary School to preview educational films which may be purchased for the regional film library being established by the schools of seven counties, Assistant County Superintendent of Schools M. Francis Coulson told the county board of school directors at their meeting Monday evening at the office of the county superintendent of schools on Carlisle St.

Coulson, who has been named chairman of the regional committee to select films for possible inclusion in the film library to be set up at Shippensburg State College, said 65 educational films will be shown to the teachers Thursday evening. The teachers are to be divided into 11 groups according to their teaching specialty and then will grade the various films they see as to their value as teaching tools.

Similar meetings of teachers are being held in the six other counties. From the lists approved by the teacher groups, plus study of the catalogues of various film libraries now in existence, plus reports from the various school districts on films used during prior years, Coulson's committee will select 50 titles for the film library at Shippensburg.

DIRECTORY SOON

Coulson said the work is to be completed by March 13 so the films will be available for the start of school next fall.

Also on the joint committee to select films is Arthur M. Gordon, Upper Adams, and Arthur Wolf, Conewago Twp. Two representatives from each of the other counties are also included on the film selection committee.

Coulson reported that the annual school directory will be available "in the near future."

U. N. Secretary Warns Congolese

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold warned Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu today that the United Nations will no longer permit its peace efforts to be blocked by political opposition.

In a letter to Kasavubu, Hammarskjold called for full cooperation of the Leopoldville government in averting a civil war. But he added that the United Nations has the strength and the determination to carry out its mission without such cooperation, if necessary.

"Those engaged in these measures on behalf of the United Nations cannot allow themselves to be forcibly deterred from carrying them out," he said.

The letter to Kasavubu was part of a report Hammarskjold made to the Security Council on steps he is taking to carry out last week's resolution authorizing use of U. N. force if needed to preserve order in the Congo. The Soviet Union has been pressing for a report.

Three Feuding Factions In Congo Sign Pact To Battle Commy-Backed Gizenga

By PETER GROSE

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The central Congo government today signed a military pact with independent Katanga and the Kasai mining state for a united front against the leftist rebels. But a rebel threat to this capital seemed to be evaporating.

As the pact was signed in Katanga President Moise Tshombe's capital of Elisabethville, the United Nations reported that leftist rebels had pulled out of the Kasai provincial capital of Lulua-bourg while their spearhead at the frontier of Leopoldville Province had vanished.

The pact among the three frequently feuding regimes could lead to a political federation capable of challenging the Communist-backed regime of Antoine Gizenga, the dead Patrice Lumumba's political heir, in Stanleyville.

SOLVE OWN PROBLEMS

Premier Joseph Ileo, sent by President Joseph Kasavubu to Elisabethville to seek Tshombe's help, signed for the Leopoldville government. President Albert Kalonji signed for his independent mining state of Kasai Province. Tshombe signed for Katanga.

ROTARY TOLD EUROPE FACES NEW SPIRIT

The greatest change in Europe today is its growing spirit of being one community, Dr. Hans Bolewski, editor of the "Lutheran World" and director of the Evangelical Academy at Loccum, Germany, told the Rotary Club Monday evening at its meeting in the YWCA.

"European nationalism has passed its time," he said. "The change can best be noted by a reflection on the changes of attitude that have occurred over the period of my lifetime."

"When I was a boy it was the expected thing that we German boys could one day fight France. France had defeated us, we would in turn defeat them. I assume that the French youth felt the same way. It was something everybody knew. Parents to correct you would say 'That is not like a German,' or in France they would say 'That is not like a Frenchman' and it would serve to correct the child. Today if such words were used the youth would laugh at the statement. This is a good thing, but we need to replace the rejected standards of youth and adults with new values."

HOLD DISCUSSION

"That is one thing we seek to do through the Evangelical Academy with which I am connected. We are not an academy in the sense of a formal school. We are an academy in a Socratic sense. We bring together groups of 100 men or more for a week of intense discussion. We call it a dialogue in the fashion of Socrates, to determine new standards of values, to determine new ways of doing things, to discuss varying philosophies and seek understanding. We conduct about 40 such dialogues each year, with 3,000 to 4,000 men and women in attendance. Some weeks it is architects, some weeks it is scientists, some weeks it is labor and management officials, all seeking by talking together to reach new standards."

APPROVE 3 CHANGES FOR SCHOOL UNIT

The joint school committee of the Gettysburg Joint School District approved three changes in the plans for the new high school unit and started work on the terms of the new joint agreement made necessary by the Gettysburg-Freedom merger that will take place July 1.

Changes approved Monday evening in the meeting at the high school include rearrangement of commercial department space to provide three classrooms instead of the proposed two; an increase in the size of the kitchen space above the amount allotted by the state in its room schedule and extra space for industrial arts to provide more space for that growing department where enrollment is increasing steadily.

Starting work on the joint agreement, the committee found many provisions of the present pact that can be continued but carried back to local boards for discussion new proposals on transportation arrangements, various proposals for an operating committee and a proposal that the new agreement provide for submission of the school merger vote at stated intervals until it is approved.

NEW SENIOR UNIT

The changes in the plans for the new senior high unit were voted on recommendations by the finance and planning committee, presented by its chairman, Addison Durbanow.

For the commercial department, the plans as drawn provided two large rooms for office practice and typing and a small room for machines. The space will be converted into three classrooms of about 800 square feet each.

The joint school committee approved the plans as drawn for the kitchen area, providing 377 square feet more space than the state will approve. School officials feel the larger area is desirable not only for present purposes but in case of future enlargement of the new building.

The space allotted for industrial arts contains 400 square feet more space than allotted by the state but it makes way for planned expansion of the department where enrollment is growing steadily, the directors were told.

LANGUAGE LAB

"Any less space for our industrial arts program would mean squeezing it into inadequate space to the point where our program would be impaired and we now have one of the best industrial arts departments in any high school in this area," Superintendent H. Edgar Riegle said.

The cost of providing the extra space for the three areas probably will have to be born entirely by the joint school district without help from state funds, the board was told.

The committee also approved a Finance and Planning recommendation that one room in the new building be provided with (Continued On Page 2)

GIVES REPORT TO LIONS ON CONFERENCE

The opinion that all convalescent homes in the county are state-licensed was expressed by the Rev. Charles E. Held, chairman of the Adams County committee on the Aging and representative to the recent White House conference. He spoke at the weekly dinner meeting of the Gettysburg Lions at the VFW home Monday evening.

The Rev. Mr. Held reviewed the formation and operation of county and state committees on the aging and the White House conference which he attended early this year in Washington as one of the 100 representatives of Pennsylvania. He attended workshops there on health and medical care and reported that, in workshops that voted on the question, there were 200 delegates in favor and 200 opposed to a plan for medical care of the aged through social security.

"When the complete reports are issued on the White House conference and legislation is introduced in Congress to put into force some of its recommendations, I hope Congress will do something for the growing numbers of the aging," the speaker said.

VISITING LIONS THERE

Attending the weekly meeting of the local club Monday evening were representatives of a number of nearby Lions' units here for a zone meeting which followed the local club session.

STEELS PAGE HEAVY MART TRADING TODAY

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels paced a churning stock market advance early this afternoon on the heaviest trading in years.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .60 to 239.10 with industrials up 1.30, rails up .40 and utilities off .10.

On average, the gain was moderate and was accompanied by considerable profit taking and switching. Huge blocks of stock were traded.

The ticker tape fell as much as 18 minutes behind transactions—the greatest lag since Feb. 29, 1956, when it was 19 minutes behind trading. The tape remained late into the afternoon. First-hour volume was 1.18 million shares.

Moderate Gains

Gains of key stocks ran from fractions to about 2 points but most gains were moderate. Among more speculative issues, advances ran to 2 or 3 points.

Brokers attributed the rise to the fact that after weeks of struggle the market Monday was able to exceed the June rally top in the Dow Jones industrial average. This gave a green light for further advance, according to Wall Street chartists.

At the same time, increasing conviction that the steel industry was about to mount a big increase in production, stimulating the over-all economy, brought in buyers.

Chemicals, motors, electrical equipments, rails, tobacco and some electronics joined in the advance. The tone was ragged among utilities, airlines, building materials, drugs and farm implements.

AMVETS ADD 15 TO GUARD

Plans to increase membership to 48 were outlined Monday night at a meeting of the Honor Guard of Amvets Post 172 at the post home near Fairfield.

The guard voted to purchase 15 additional rifles and uniforms to outfit the new members.

It also voted to invite the uniformed Amvets Auxiliary to march with the Honor Guard in parades this summer.

The group voted to participate in the Memorial Day parade here May 30 and to compete in the marching competition at the state convention June 24 at Reading.

President Fred Nagle reported the guard took part in 21 parades last year and conducted rituals for two veterans' funerals. Secretary Raymond Miller reported on plans of the Allied Veterans Council of the county and said the Amvets post is asked to furnish men for various special events arranged by the Veterans Council.

Plans were made to set up a point system for attendance at meetings and participation in parades with awards to be presented at the end of the year to those with the most points.

Quartermaster Sgt. William Izer announced he will make an inventory of the equipment of the guard.

Plans were announced to send bulletins to all members from time to time to inform them of future activities.

The men voted to give the rank of "captain" to its commander.

An invitation was extended to veterans of World War II and the Korean war to join the guard.

John H. Rudisill, Gettysburg R. 3, was accepted as a member Monday night.

Earl W. Guise Is Seeking Re-election

Associate Judge Earl W. Guise today announced his candidacy for another term noting that he has been informed that the county will retain its present system of having one president judge and two associate judges when it becomes a sixth-class district.

The Straban Twp. farm implement dealer who has served four years as an associate judge said he had delayed announcing his candidacy for a new term until he had determined from officials that the associate judge post will be retained in the new county set-up brought about by the increased population of the county.

The county has been a seventh-class county and will become a sixth-class county at the beginning of next year. A number of changes will come about as a result of the upgrading of the county. Continuation of the post of associate judge in sixth-class counties had been one of the questions being studied.

Judge Guise will seek the Democratic nomination for associate judge at the May primary, he said today. His current term will expire in January. The current term of Associate Judge Clarence D. Deardoff, a Republican, has several years to run.

TO BUY PROPERTY

The committee voted to take up a 30-day option on three Jesse Scott properties on Wall St., adjoining school land, at a price of $10,000. The properties are the three farthest from Baltimore St. on the south side of Wall St. Directors agreed that the properties are desirable for site development for the new school and "for the future in case of expansion."

The decision to acquire the land came on a roll call vote. School Authority board agreement has been secured on the matter, it was noted.

The name of Mrs. Gerald Doo was added to the list of approved substitute teachers for the high school. She is a graduate of St. John's College in China and has a master's degree from Smith.

SOME AGREEMENT

In the discussion of terms of the new jointure agreement, it soon became apparent that another meeting on the subject will have to be held. Committee members seemed agreed that present arrangements for dividing school costs can be continued—on a per pupil basis for operating expenses and on the basis of property values for capital funds and rentals.

But when suggestions were made that the jointure might want to take over operation of the school bus system; that a new setup be used for handling general jointure business and that the new agreement contain a provision—as the old one did—that merger votes come up periodically until approved, it was decided studies are needed by local boards.

President Ralph W. Guise presided at the meeting with all districts represented.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Will Observe Ash Wednesday:
Special services will be held in the Catholic and Episcopal churches of town on Wednesday the beginning of Lent. In St. Francis Xavier's church there will be services at 9 in the morning; 3:30 in the afternoon and 7:00 in the evening. At the first service there will be the blessing of the ashes before mass and distribution afterward. The distribution will take place at the other services also.

Bishop Darlington will be present at the Episcopal church service at 10:30 Wednesday morning and will administer the rite of confirmation. There will also be service at 6:30 in the evening. The other Protestant churches of town will observe the beginning of Lent in their usual manner.

School Term Nearing End: In a little more than three weeks the majority of the public schools of Adams County will close their doors for the term of 1910-1911. Those which opened the last Monday in August closed on March 17 and those which started their term on the first Monday in September close a week later.

All the schools in the county are affected by the seventh months' term except New Oxford, East Berlin, Abbottstown and Littlestown, which have eight months terms and Gettysburg and McSherrystown with nine months.

Wants $110,000 For Camp Site: Representative Dale, of York, on Monday presented in the state legislature a bill appropriating $110,000 for the purchase of a camp site for National Guard encampments or for brigade encampments.

The idea of buying a permanent site has long been agitated by National Guard authorities and others. Various things have always stood in the way of carrying out the plan but the bill of Representative Dale would effectively remove the financial end of the difficulties.

Coal Stealing Again Appears: The coal stealing which was so prevalent several years ago, and which had almost entirely disappeared last winter, has again come to light and some heavy hauls have been made the past few nights from the cars on the Round Top siding west of town.

One night this week operations were carried on so extensively that when morning came it was found that almost two tons had been removed the night previous. Efforts are being made to apprehend the guilty parties.

To Macadamize Hanover Road: The State Senate on Tuesday passed the bill ceding to the National government the Hanover road, better known as the Bonneauville road.

It is understood that the purpose in wanting this road is to extend the present macadamized portion from its terminus to the Cavalry Field, making a continuous stretch from Rock Creek to that portion of the battlefield. The Bonneauville road is not on the plan of proposed good roads construction as provided for in the Spruill bill now before the State Legislature and optimistic persons see the possibility of the National Government extending the macadamized portion to Hanover in view of the historical interest centered in the York County town.

State Train At Littlestown: Over four hundred people attended the Good Roads Train demonstration at Littlestown on Tuesday afternoon. The town turned out one of the best meetings the unique exhibit has had on its tour.

The train arrived at Littlestown at 3:45 in the afternoon, and from then until the time of leaving every minute of the time was occupied in talking and demonstrating the various phases in road building and improving.

Today's Talk

VICTORY-ORGANIZED
"Divine persons," says Emerson, "are character born or, to borrow a phrase from Napoleon, they are victory-organized." It is because character is so big that such great homage is paid to it.

And yet character doesn't display itself, it doesn't boast—it just goes ahead with what it has and with all that it is, and marks its way in the world in the shape of heroes and pathfinders and immortal leaders.

Talk with him who feels his message and knows his errand, and you may know that you are in the presence of one who is victory-organized.

It is not a mere question of equipment. For the best equipped man, as well as army, has many times gone down to failure and defeat.

It is what we do with what we have, and how deeply we feel that we have it, that convinces the world we are victory-organized—ready to go ahead and follow out our vision.

Make the other fellow feel that you feel and that you know—and he will both feel and know, in turn.

Where there are harmony and understanding between a man and his world there is no occasion on which he should either equivocate or apologize.

To be victory-organized is to have counted all costs and to have determined to win out anyway.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Human Hum"

Just Folks

TEARING DOWN AND BUILDING UP

There is ever the tearing down

And the building up again;

There is nothing in city or town

Man fashions long to remain.

Better's a constant cry;

Bigger's a constant call,

And ever beneath the sky

We fling up our towers to fall.

Shall ever we sit and see

The last of our building done?

Shall ever the morning be

When there's no new dream begun?

Not while men seek renown

And a drop of life's in the cup

Shall we pause in our tearing down,

Or halt in our building up.

For better's our constant cry,

And bigger's our constant call;

Both buildings and builders die,

And changes come to us all.

And the old shall give way to the new,

And the hammers of men shall ring

So long as the skies are blue

And the flowers bloom in the spring.

Panch Wins Daytona Race And $26,850

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)— Marvin Panch today set a new speed record and 20,750 fresh dollars in his bank account as a result of winning the "Daytona 500."

The 35-year-old Daytona driver Sunday covered the distance over the 2½ mile Daytona International Speedway asphalt track at an average speed of 149.601 miles an hour.

Panch's time shattered the previous mark of 138.767 for a 500-mile race set by Jim Rathmann of Miami last year at Indianapolis, and far eclipsed the 500-mile record for Daytona of 135.129 set two years ago by Lee Petty of Randleman, N.C.

Veteran Ray Weatherly of Norfolk, Va., was second; Paul Goldsmith of St. Clair Shores, Mich., the only Indianapolis driver entered; third; and Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill., fourth.

Sweeney's Lead Is Cut To Two Points

NEW YORK (AP)— American Hockey League scoring pacesetter Bill Sweeney of Springfield has had his commanding lead whittled to two points by Buffalo's Phil Maloney in one of the closest point-making races in the circuit's history.

Sweeney scored three points last week and has 85 points on 32 goals and 53 assists, according to league statistics released today. Maloney closed in by tallying six points for a total of 83 on 33 goals and 50 assists.

Holding third place is Maloney's teammate, Larry Wilson, with 75 points, followed by a Springfield trio—Bruce Cline, with 73, and Brian Kilrea and Bill McCreary, with 71 each.

In other departments, the Indians' Jimmy Anderson is No. 1 in goals scored with 36, Kilrea is the leader in assists with 54 and Springfield goalie Marcel Paille is the top netminder, allowing a low of 2.22 goals a game.

DANGER OF NEW FLOODS IS REDUCED

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The danger of new flooding in the stricken areas of the Southland lessened as the Weather Bureau predicted rains today would be less than had been anticipated.

But the floodwaters receding from the hard-hit inland cities posed a threat to areas farther south.

The rains, which moved into Louisiana and Mississippi Monday night and spread across Alabama and Georgia today, were expected to be much lighter than had been originally forecast. The Weather Bureau in Atlanta said the rain would be mostly showers and very light except in north Alabama, north Georgia and Tennessee where it would be moderate.

RIVER NEAR CREST

The new flood danger area extended from Jackson, Miss., across to Bainbridge, Ga. The lowlands around the Mississippi capital city were evacuated Monday night as the crest moved down the Pearl River. An estimated 600 persons may be forced out of their homes at Jackson.

In Alabama, Selma braced for a 37.8-foot crest on the Alabama River which earlier had forced thousands from their homes at Montgomery. An estimated 1,400 persons were being cared for Monday night in Red Cross shelters at Selma.

President Kennedy designated most of the flood-ravaged area as a major disaster area, eligible for federal aid. The Small Business Administration named 15 counties in Alabama, 6 in Mississippi and 2 in Georgia as being eligible for reconstruction or rehabilitation loans.

DEATH TOLL 13

Three multimillion-dollar public works projects on the Chattahoochee River between Georgia and Alabama were in danger from the flood waters. The U.S. Corps of Engineers prepared to flood the entire 20-acre construction area to save a large coffer dam at the $15-million Columbia (Ala.) dam and lock project.

At Fort Gaines, Ga., minor leaks were reported in a coffer dam surrounding the Walter F. George lock construction site. At Georgetown, the river already had swept away two 30-foot construction bridges and overflowed a small coffer dam at the site of a new highway bridge and railroad trestle under construction.

The death toll has climbed to 13 in the flood area.

NO FLOODS IN STATE AS RAIN IS PREDICTED

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pennsylvania's swollen rivers continued to fall slowly today and forecasters said rains predicted for later in the day should cause no further problems.

"We don't see any reason to be concerned at this time," a forecaster at the Harrisburg station of the Federal-State Flood Forecasting Service said Monday night.

"It would take a good bit of rain to put us back where we were," he said referring to the level of rivers which crested Monday, causing minor flooding in low areas.

SOME FAMILIES HOMELESS

The water forced some families to leave their homes in low areas bordering Wilkes-Barre and at other points along the Susquehanna River from Harrisburg to Towanda. There also were evacuations of some families living along small streams which spilled over their banks.

The Susquehanna Monday afternoon reached a crest of 18.5 feet at Harrisburg, or about 1.5 feet above flood stage. The river, which dropped to 18.3 feet by 9 p.m., was expected to continue falling slowly.

The Delaware River was generally below flood stage although there was some minor flooding in Lower Bucks County Monday.

The situation along the Schuylkill and Lehigh rivers was normal.

OTHER RIVERS RECEDED

In Pittsburgh, the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers receded slowly Monday night after cresting earlier in the day at 23 feet—two feet below flood stage. The high level of the rivers, however, did flood a parking wharf along the Monongahela and leave water in the Fort Pitt Boulevard underpass of the Penn-Lincoln Park way.

The Susquehanna River crested at 17.9 feet in Sunbury, where flood level is 16 feet. Some roads along the river were under water.

The Susquehanna crested at 26.5 feet at Wilkes-Barre. Although flood stage there is 22 feet, the dyke-protected city does not experience serious flooding until the level reaches about 32 feet.

Minor flooding was reported at Towanda, where the river was 22 feet, six feet above flood level.

The Kurds, one of the oldest peoples in the world, live in the mountains and valleys where Iran, Iraq and Turkey meet.

PA. DEMOCRATS TO TAKE OVER FISCAL POSTS

By HERB LINNEN

HARRISBURG (AP)— Democrats hope to have a special task force prepare the way for their take-over of the state's fiscal offices from Republicans in May.

A highly placed source in the Lawrence Administration confirmed this today.

The source, who asked not to be identified, said the task force of college graduate students would be headed by Dr. Stephen B. Sweeney, director of the University of Pennsylvania's Fels Institute of Local and State Governments.

A similar study group under Sweeney's direction helped accomplish the change-over from Republican to Democratic administration before Democrat George M. Leader became governor in 1955.

The change-over in the fiscal departments will occur May 1. Mrs. Grace Sloan of Clarion will become state treasurer, succeeding Robert F. Kent of Meadville. Thomas Z. Minehart of Fort Washington will replace Charles C. Smith of Philadelphia as auditor general.

Plan New State Park In Schuylkill County

HARRISBURG (AP)— Land purchase procedures and plans for a new state park in Schuylkill County are to be discussed at a public hearing at Tamaqua on March 6.

Maurice K. Goddard, secretary of forests and waters, said Monday the park will be based on a flood control reservoir to be built by the U. S. Soil Conservation Service on Locust Creek southwest of Tamaqua.

SAYS LORD WAS BEHIND ACTION

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— A minister from Sabinsville, Pa., who said the Lord was behind him, wrestled and disarmed a man Monday who went on a shooting spree in a supermarket. The minister's wife and two other persons were wounded.

Police gave the following story: The Rev. Marion Houghtaling, 43, who has been leading a revival meeting in the city's southside, had just entered the store when Ray Osborne began shooting outside.

Osborne had seen Basil Hawkins, 31, sitting in the car of Osborne's wife, Delores, 34, outside the supermarket. Mrs. Osborne is a cashier there.

Osborne chased Hawkins into the supermarket, still shooting.

BOY HELPED

There the Rev. Houghtaling, with the help of a carryout boy, Clayton Noggle, 16, wrestled Osborne to the ground and took away his 38-caliber revolver.

Hawkins was shot three times. He was the most seriously hurt. Mrs. Osborne was hit in the foot, and the Rev. Houghtaling's wife, Bernice, 46, was wounded in the back. All were treated at Mercy Hospital.

The minister said later, "I knew he was going to kill somebody and I don't like to fight because I'm a man of prayer, but I just knew that's the way the Lord would want it."

Osborne was taken to jail.

No charges were filed immediately.

Our Father

When His disciples asked Jesus how to pray, He delivered the prayer which has become a model of prayer for all time and part of the religious service of all Christianity.

OUR FATHER, Who are in heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread and forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil, for Thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory forever. Amen.

State Mails Many Jobless Payments

HARRISBURG (AP)—The state sent out 308,056 unemployment compensation checks totaling $9,756,366 during the week ending Feb. 24, State Treasurer Robert F. Kent reported Monday.

Kent said that about 77,000 checks that were not sent out on Wednesday, Feb. 22, will be absorbed into subsequent disbursements. Wednesday was a legal holiday.

He said a balance of $12,958,708 remained in the unemployment compensation fund at the end of the week.

EXPECT BATTLE ON TAX BOARD NOMINATIONS

HARRISBURG (AP)— Another battle over nomination of members of the State Tax Equalization Board looms in the Senate.

The Executive Nominations Committee, under Democratic control, Monday approved for floor action reappointment of John Bevec of Strabane, Washington County.

Bevec is chairman, at $11,500 annually, of the three-member board which makes real estate market valuation figures up on which state school subsidies are computed.

A few minutes after Bevec's name was reported out of committee Republicans made it known they would not provide the votes necessary for approval. A two-thirds vote is required for confirmation of appointments and party membership is split 25-25.

INCUMBENT MEMBERS

"We don't feel inclined to vote for either Bevec or McWherter (John L. McWherter of Perry (Westmoreland County) until a replacement for McGlinchey is named," said Sen. Robert Fleming, Allegheny, Senate Republican caucus chairman.

Bevec and McGlinchey, incumbent board members, are continuing to serve past expiration of their regular terms under a law by which they remain in office until a successor is qualified. Both are Democrats.

McWherter, also a Democrat, is serving an interim appointment. His formal appointment is still in the Executive Nominations Committee.

Fleming said the Republicans don't think McGlinchey, a former congressman, is qualified. He pointed out that McGlinchey's nomination was defeated in the 1959 and 1960 sessions.

Bevec's nominations in the same sessions were tabled without action.

Is Interested In Rep. Mumma's Seat

HARRISBURG (AP)—The first public announcement of interest in succeeding the late Rep. Walter M. Mumma, R-Pa., was made Monday by State Sen. Thomas A. Ehrgood, R-Lebanon.

Mumma, elected to Congress for six terms, died last Saturday. He represented the state's 16th Congressional District, comprising Lebanon, Dauphin, Perry and Juniata counties.

Ehrgood, 37-year-old Lebanon attorney serving his second term in the Senate, said he is thinking about running for the post.

"Various people in Lebanon County have talked to me about it," he said, but added: "I have not talked to people in the other counties about it."

There are about 1½ million known cases of diabetes in the United States at the present time, nine per 1,000 population.

TEAL AMES TO LOOK FOR NEW ASSIGNMENTS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It isn't often that a leading lovable character in TV soap opera is permitted to shuffle off this mortal coil. But Mike Karr's wife, Sara, in "Edge of Night" was killed off last week.

The decision was not made lightly. It was precipitated when Teal Ames, who had played Sara since the CBS daytime series started almost five years ago, told her employers she wanted to leave and to accept some other acting assignments.

"We could have done the usual thing—sent Sara away on a long trip (at least six weeks) and had another actress pick up the part," explained the advertising agency man who produces the program for the sponsor. "But this would not have been satisfactory. We decided to make it quick and clean, not one of those 17-week illnesses."

DIED IN 3 DAYS

So on Monday Feb. 20, Sara was struck down while trying to snatch her infant daughter from the path of an oncoming car. She died on Wednesday, after a poignant farewell scene with her loving husband. That consumed only three scripts—the twinkling of an eye by soap-opera standard.

Now the script writer is busily exploring new territory in which to place Mike Karr, suddenly transformed from happy husband into an eligible young widower with an infant child.

Expectedly, when Sara died, switchboards of TV stations all over the nation were deluged with calls.

"Most of the callers just asked 'What did you have to kill Sara for?'" the producer explained. "But you'd be surprised how sophisticated television audiences are today. A lot of them wanted to know just why we had fired Teal Ames."

Recommended tonight: "JFK—Report Number One," NBC, 10-11 (EST)—first of a series on the new administration and its head.

AUTO TOP ADVICE

Riding with Russell

by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL

As a general rule the too easy going motorist is the one who has the hardest time getting the engine started.

BREAK-THROUGH IN SERVICE
Less conventional service needs for cars are the biggest boost for better maintenance of the most complicated equipment of today's automobile.

This is the way automobile men size up the current trend toward permanent lubrication of chassis parts, permanent coolant, self-adjusting brakes and other advances. It means that the average motorist will be able to pay closer attention to many other units of the car which currently are being neglected.

Too often we think we have been kind enough to our cars just because we've flushed the cooling system or bought a standard grease job. Actually, however, cylinder head nuts may need tightening or the front wheel bearings may be badly in need of cleaning, checking and repacking. With so many power aids on today's car, not overlooking automatic transmissions, nonslip differentials, special suspension systems and heavily equipped bodies there will be plenty to take up any gap caused by trends toward less service on basic parts.

Cars should run a lot better from here on. It's one of the big stories of the automotive year.

ALWAYS AN EXCEPTION

If your car is one of the latest with the familiar kickdown feature so that you can more quickly overtake other cars be sure that you know the details regarding operation of the particular automatic transmission. One of them currently provides the regular flooring position of the accelerator for passing at speeds over 30 miles an hour, but if the car is traveling less than this speed the driver simply presses half way down on the pedal to get the extra spur for passing.

ALWAYS SOMETHING NEW

Perhaps the best way to answer the frequently asked questions whether I find it difficult to find anything new to write about cars is to refer to a bulletin just put out by one of the leading makers. It refers to wheel bearing lubricants.

Such greases commonly contain either lithium or soda soaps. These two are not compatible, any combination of them tending to cause the lubricant to go semiliquid. Thus whenever having the bearings checked it is a matter of wisdom to clean out all remaining grease in the hubs as well as in the bearings.

MECHANIC JOE SPEAKING:

With so many brands and types of mufflers to select from it is little wonder that too often a basic consideration — size — is overlooked. Whatever muffler is selected must be large enough to do the job which is required of it by the power output of the engine. Another top consideration is strength of the end caps. Many mufflers blow out at the ends rather than through the shell. There still is controversy as to whether it helps muffler life to provide drain holes. However, in the case of resonators which often have to be mounted at an angle drain holes may be a must.

WHAT'S YOUR TROUBLE

Q. Why is it necessary to allow a certain amount of free play at the brake pedal? N. K.

A. This prevents blocking of the master cylinder's bypass port otherwise pressure would remain in the system and the brake shoes might not release.

Q. Can the tension of a brake arm spring be reduced in cases where the points are found to bounce? W. L. S.

A. Yes, but it's better to replace the arm and spring.

Q. Is it true that spark plugs should be replaced when they have provided around 10,000 miles of service? N. J. C.

A. Plugs lose their efficiency as they age, especially in modern high compression engines where good spark is so necessary.

Q. I do not like the action of the brakes on my car. Best description is that the brakes seem hard. Careful readjustment of the brake shoes has not helped. The lining is not worn and is the right type. S. W.

A. At this point I would check for worn brake anchor pins.

Q. For sometime there has seemed to be looseness in the rear end of my car. However, checking the drive line shows that there is no more than the usual amount of backlash in the gears. Wm. L. V.

A. I would check for loose U-bolts on the rear springs.

Fairfield

GARY H. BECHTEL
FAIRFIELD — The Fairfield High School Alumni will hold a night of games March 1 in the high school cafeteria. All members of the community are invited to attend.

Rehearsals have started on the high school Senior class play to be presented April 7 at the high school. The production is under the direction of Miss Helen McClellan, and entitled "Room for One More."

Community Lenten services will begin March 8 at 7:30 p.m. They will feature talks by laymen. Services will be conducted every Wednesday and Sunday. The first speaker will be Robert Newman on March 8, Dale Ritchey March 15, and Richard Straup March 22. Sunday services will include the Biglerville High School chorus on March 12, a film "The Power of the Resurrection" on March 19, and the play "Family Portrait" on March 26. All Wednesday services will be held in St. John's United Church of Christ and Sunday services will be in the Zion Lutheran Church, the Brethren in Christ Church, and the Mennonite Church starting March 12.

Q. There is minor but continuous leakage of oil from around the crankcase chain plug. Is this likely to be serious. L. McB.

A. Efforts should always be made to check oil leakage especially around the crankcase. However, the chances are that this leak is not lowering oil mileage to any great extent. Losing a drop of oil every 300 feet equals a quart of oil per 800 miles of driving.

Q. I am having trouble closing the door of my new car. Apparently the body is so air tight a closing door causes compression. I have heard of people breaking door windows this way. What can be done about this when it is necessary to lock up the car securely? P. E. H.

A. You can open one of the vents under the dash. That will reduce compression. Push the last door slowly but firmly, instead of trying to slam it.

Q. What can be used for flushing the hydraulic brake lines? R. G.

A. Denatured alcohol is used for this purpose.

Q. Should I be concerned if the oil pressure warning light on the cash occasionally flickers when the engine is idling? T. T. McN.

A. All is well if the light goes out when you accelerate the engine.

THE DRIVER'S SEAT

They're making them bigger nowadays . . . traffic signs, that is. From three widely separated areas of the country comes word that large signs are the coming thing.

In Savannah, Ga., stop signs with lettering a foot and a half high have been placed at two of the city's most dangerous intersections. The bright red, reflective stop signs are a yard wide and a yard high.

In Los Angeles, street name signs 18 in. high and 40 to 60 in. long have made their appearance. According to city officials, the signs are visible a block away and the lettering is reflective for night visibility. At present the new Los Angeles street name signs are located in several test spots in the city. If they prove as effective as city officials believe them to be, they'll be installed throughout the city.

PLAN NEW SIGNS

Large signs also are in the plans of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, which plans to erect new 12 x 12 — foot signs along the turnpike. Each sign will bear a safety message reminding drivers of necessary safety precautions.

The trend to larger traffic signs does not mean there is anything wrong with the average driver's eyesight, safety authorities say. They have been made necessary by the faster pace of modern traffic, and the increasing amount of distractions and confusing backgrounds encountered in city driving.

At high speeds, a motorist passes the average traffic sign too fast for him to read it and comprehend its message. To give him the extra time he needs, a sign must be readable at greater distances than before. Thus, larger letters that can be seen farther away and stand out against the signs and lights of the city are needed.

EXPECT LARGER SIGNS

The use of large signs was initiated on tollways and expressways, which have led in many new developments for high-speed traffic. Some expressway signs on the interstate highway system are as wide as 30 feet.

If traffic continues to speed up, even larger signs may be needed.

Children who ride school buses often spend more time and travel more miles on the highways than do their parents who drive their own cars.

Nothing reveals more thoroughly the kind of person you are as your behavior, good or bad, behind the wheel of a car.

TELL REDS "K" MAY GO TO AMERICA

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government has let the Soviet people know that Premier Khrushchev is thinking of a return visit to the United Nations and the possibility of a meeting with President Kennedy while in the United States.

Films of two of the President's news conferences were shown on television Monday night, including newsmen's questions to Kennedy on whether he would meet Khrushchev if the Soviet premier visits the U.N. General Assembly opening next Tuesday. Kennedy replied only that he hadn't heard yet whether Khrushchev was coming.

The showing of the films was an unprecedented gesture. It also was the first time that the Soviet people learned that a new Khrushchev visit to the United Nations is possible.

LIKELY TO HAPPEN

Such ideas are rarely put in the public mind unless they are likely to become accomplished facts. Kennedy's statement gave the Soviet public the impression that the initiative for a visit is up to the Soviet Union and that Khrushchev would be welcome in the United States.

(Soviet diplomats in Washington have been active in spreading the idea that Khrushchev would like to make a visit, and diplomatic circles in the U.S. capital have said they would not be surprised if Khrushchev comes to the United States late in April, when the assembly session will be winding up.)

Television of the conferences here also coincides with the return of U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson from talks with Kennedy in Washington.

The ambassador is carrying a message from the President reportedly expressing his full confidence in Thompson and hope that talks between the envoy and Khrushchev will result in better relations between Washington and Moscow.

LEGISLATURE TO HEAR PLAN ON RIVER BASIN

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House and Senate join today to hear an appeal for support of a proposed interstate compact for long-range development of the Delaware River Basin.

The plea was prepared by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. The four-state compact—requiring authorization by Congress and the legislatures of each state—would lay the groundwork for a 50-year multimillion-dollar program.

Sen. Charles R. Weiner, Democratic floor leader, said he sought the joint session to allow the Army construction unit to explain the scope of the program.

Legislation authorizing Pennsylvania's participation in the program would be introduced soon, Weiner added.

BIPARTISAN BACKING

Under the compact, said Weiner, Pennsylvania would join New York, Delaware and New Jersey to support watershed development, flood control, stream flow regulation and construction of at least 11 major reservoirs.

Weiner indicated the program would have bipartisan backing.

In other Senate action a series of amendments were prepared limiting the effect of proposed legislation to legalize the use of radar by state police to curb highway speeding.

SENATE ACTION SOON

Sen. Fred B. Rooney, chairman of the Highways Committee, indicated one proposal might spell out a five-mile-per-hour leeway on speeding violations detected by radar.

Final Senate action on the bill could come next week, Rooney added.

The Senate also received a House-approved measure proposing that the State Constitution be amended to exempt seriously disabled veterans from real estate and property taxes.

GETS HOUSE OKAY

The House approved the measure 188-0 Monday. The same proposal also was passed by the 1959 legislature. Under state law constitutional amendments must be passed by two legislatures and approved in a voters referendum.

The House voted approval of the unusual proposal after Rep. Joshua Eilberg, D-Philadelphia, explained that enabling legislation under the amendment is being prepared which would guarantee that the exemption would be limited to needy veterans.

The proposed amendment limits the exemption to veterans who are blind, paraplegic, or double amputees. The State Veterans Commission would determine qualifications.

DEFER ACTION

Meanwhile, the Senate again deferred action on the remaining portions of Gov. Lawrence's revenue program. The two bills would produce some $9 million to help balance the state budget.

Dr. David Kurtzman, secretary of administration, expressed the hope the Senate soon would act on the measures. One bill, he said, makes permanent a 4 mill levy on state banks. An additional 4 mills is already permanent.

Without Senate approval of the measure, said Kurtzman, the total levy will revert to 4 mills June 1, costing the state a $2.5 million tax loss annually.

OTHER ACTION

In other legislative action Monday:

House Republicans — The GOP introduced a package of bills as a main feature of its legislative program.

The principal bill was one to require insurance premium commissions to be paid into the state's general fund instead of to brokers. Under present state law the com-

Expect Wilt To Break Own Record

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain is expected to break his single season National Basketball Association scoring record early in tonight's game against Los Angeles when his Warriors play host to the Lakers in Philadelphia.

Chamberlain moved to within six points Monday night when Philly beat the Lakers 113-88 in Los Angeles and he scored 35 points. An ice-cold first half during which he scored only three points kept him from breaking the mark of 2,707 he set last year as a rookie.

Counting Monday night's game, Chamberlain has scored 2,702, and still has five more regular season games left after tonight.

Wilt has a 38.0 average, well ahead of the Lakers' Elgin Baylor who has scored 2,305.

Cincinnati rookie Oscar Robertson and Bob Pettit of St. Louis, both of whom face each other tonight in New York, are battling for the third spot. The Big O has scored 1,993 points and Pettit, 1,958.

LAWRENCEVILLE, N. J. (AP)—Mt. Lebanon (Pa.) High School, Hill School of Pottstown (Pa.) and three individual Pennsylvania swimmers dominated the final competition in the Eastern Inter-scholastic Swimming Championships Saturday.

Mt. Lebanon won the high school division title. Its Tom Tretheway won the 100-yard breaststroke and anchored the victorious 200-yard medley relay team.

missions must be assigned to brokers. They are chosen legally on a political patronage basis.

Other bills would increase the state's constitutional debt limit from $1 million to $35 million to finance parks; consolidate Philadelphia city and county offices; amend the Constitution to allow outsiders to act as poll watchers.

SCHOOL BILL IN

Library Bill — The House advanced to position for possible final action a measure setting up a statewide library system.

The action came after the measure was amended to eliminate any state control over what books go on shelves. The measure, carrying a $500,000 appropriation, would set up four regional libraries and provide 30 district libraries.

Final House action is expected next week.

School Subsidies—The administration introduced a bill in the House that would repeal the present subsidy for closed schools and freeze the present school subsidies at their present level for another year.

BUYING A USED CAR?

Timely Tips That Can Help Protect Your Investment!

1. Choose your dealer carefully.
2. Buy only from a well established reputable dealer.
3. Buy only from a dealer who maintains his own adequate facilities to service the car you buy.
4. Insist on a WARRANTY in writing that can be "backed-up."
5. BUYING from a NEW CAR DEALER IS YOUR BEST BET. . . Most new car dealers sell locally owned trade-ins, not Used Cars obtained from Auto Auctions or distress merchandise from large cities.
6. Insist on knowing where the Used Car came from. "Ask who was the previous owner." Most new car dealers will be happy to tell you and invite you to contact the previous owner.
7. New Cars bought from Used Car Dealers . . . REMEMBER! Only the New Car Dealer is authorized to extend a FACTORY WARRANTY to a buyer, NO ONE ELSE.

ZENITH PLANS NEW COLOR TV

CHICAGO — Zenith Radio Corporation announced today that it is going into the color television business when it will introduce a line of completely new color TV receivers. Announcement was made by Hugh Robertson, board chairman, at a meeting of Zenith's national distributing organization.

"These new receivers are the result of the expenditure of several millions of dollars over a period of eight years of intensive research and development work here at Zenith," Robertson said. "Zenith's research has been aimed at improving the standards of both performance and reliability as well as simplification of use of the receiver in the home."

Complete details of the electronic innovations and styling, Robertson said, will not be revealed until the sets are introduced in production quantities to Zenith distributors and dealers.

However, he continued, innovations will include a Zenith-developed color demodulation system which employs a new tube.

Many models will have Space Command, an ultrasonic system of remote controls exclusively developed by Zenith.

The new color TV receivers in console models will probably carry retail prices above $600, he said.

Says College Financing Plans Require Long Time Planning

By MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON
Home Economist

In tailoring wool garments, a basic wool vocabulary contains six important words. They are:

Woolens — woven from yarns made of short- or wool fibers, twisted together loosely to make a bulky yarn with a soft, fuzzy surface. Examples include: boucle, chinchilla and fleece.

Worsted — woven from yarns made of longer wool fibers, twisted together tightly to give a firm, smooth surface. Herringbone, sharkskin, serge and gabardine are among the worsted fabrics.

WOVEN FABRICS

Woven fabrics are made on a loom, sets of lengthwise-crosswise yarns are interlaced over and under each other.

Knitted fabrics are made on a machine, the knit effect obtained by interlocking series of loops of one or more yarns.

Texture refers to the appearance and hand of the fabric. To determine or describe texture, think in terms of how the fabric looks, feels and handles. Texture may be airy, bouncy, crisp, firm, glossy, lacy, plush, ribbed, smooth, or shaggy.

Pattern refers to the surface design of the fabric and it may be checked, plaid, printed, diagonal, or dotted.

ADVANCED TRAINING PLAN

Young people who have a sound education and specific training will have less difficulty finding jobs than those who get no training. But providing funds for advanced training beyond high school will need careful and long-time planning by parents.

Costs of college education have increased and will probably continue to go up. Young people, who have the ability for and interest in a college education, and their parents will be challenged to find ways to provide that education.

RECENT STUDY

In a recent study the United States Office of Education found how some college educations have been financed. Students said about two-fifths of their college expenses were paid from long-term savings set aside by parents and grandparents.

Half the families interviewed who had children in college began a fund about 10 years before the first child was ready for advanced education. About half the families reduced other expenditures to keep children in college. One-fifth of the mothers of college students had taken jobs to help pay expenses.

College students themselves earned about 25 per cent of their expenses through summer jobs or part-time jobs during the school year. About 14 per cent of the students said that they or their parents borrowed money.

ACTIVE CHILDREN

Parents should be pleased if their child is an active one. Activity on the part of a child is natural and normal. If a child is inactive listless, or day dreams constantly, he may not be well and the causes should be determined and corrected.

Directing bubbling activity is one of the toughest jobs parents have. It requires ingenuity and planning ahead to channel a child's active energy into positive areas.

Parents need to expect some noise and mess to go with active play. If parents don't and are always scolding and reprimanding, conflict instead of harmony may result. The child may become convinced that he is basically bad when actually he is only following a natural impulse.

Providing a place where children can play without disturbing adults may help. An attic, porch, outside building, or a light, dry basement. If remodeling or building a house, parents may wish to provide a suitable place for the children to play. A damage-proof place for active play near to the kitchen makes it easy for supervision of the play. Furniture needs to be sturdy and durable.

HONG KONG IS GOOD DISTRICT FOR FILM FANS

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HONG KONG (AP)—You'd have to go far to find better film fans than the citizens of Hong Kong. Movie business is so good that television can't hurt it. This may be the only place in the world that TV hasn't been a success.

After five years of TV, there are still only 5,000 sets among Hong Kong's 3 million population. Factors holding back TV include:

1. Cost. The average citizen is too poor to afford a TV set. Even those who can buy one object to the system. All TV is transmitted by wire, and subscribers must pay a monthly fee of about $2.50.

USED AMERICAN FILM

2. Programming. Hong Kong's sole channel broadcasts only four or five hours daily, relying on old American series and ancient Chinese films.

3. Language. Only a tiny segment of the population speaks English. Dubbing is too expensive, and it is difficult to read Chinese subtitles on the small screen. Even the old Chinese movies have to be dubbed. They are mostly in Mandarin Chinese, while Cantonese is the principal tongue in Hong Kong.

The average citizen goes to the movies 20 times a year, compared with less than 14 in the United States. That keeps Hong Kong's 65 theaters busy, and competition is hot among the world's film suppliers.

LIKE ELVIS

American films can be popular, but they have to fight for the market. Local fans are star-conscious. If a Hollywood film has no names, it has to be sold on other merits — story, spectacle, color. The Chinese especially like color.

A thriving local industry competes with the American product. There are several studios, including a new one built by Run Run Shaw, a colorful film magnate who also has studios in Singapore and 130 theaters throughout Southeast Asia. He makes 40 films a year in Hong Kong.

Red China also provides competition. Hong Kong has been importing movies made by the Communists, most of them versions of Chinese operas, an ancient art form loved by the local population. Ostensibly, there is no propaganda content, but many of the operas carry an antiwar theme. And very often the rich man is the villain.

The censor keeps a sharp eye on violence in all films. This can mean wholesale cuts in some of the Hollywood product and banning of a few.

GOP Seeks Halt To Ballot Burglaries

HARRISBURG (AP) — Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom said today the GOP is determined to guard against what he called "ballot box burglary" in Philadelphia, Allegheny and Lackawanna counties.

Bloom said, "These three areas will loom big in this year's municipal elections and we think it is extremely important that an honest count be made of the votes."

He said that information on exposing "shadow voters" contained in a booklet issued by the GOP National Committee which has initiated a nationwide clean-vote drive, is being distributed.

"This work is most important to efficient elections this fall," Bloom said, "and as a basis for price levels. Tomato prices advanced slightly this week but considering growing and selling costs, they are still not too high. Cranberry products, rice, canned ripe olives, peanuts and peanut products are in plentiful supply and currently on the list of good buys in foods.

Fruit values are generally limited to items in heavy volume. These include bananas, grapefruit, oranges and apples. Small sized grapefruit are the better buy. Orange prices are expected to remain firm on the support of a strong processor demand.

SOS FOOD AID PROGRAM WILL BE STEPPED UP

NEW YORK—The Share Our Surplus program of American Protestant denominations cooperating in the relief of hunger among the needy overseas is expected to increase in size up to 10 per cent as well as in diet value during the coming months.

The projected increase in the SOS program — currently carrying on distribution of approximately 300 million pounds of U.S. surplus foods annually in some 25 areas abroad — was announced by Bishop Frederick B. Newell, acting executive director of Church World Service, at CWS offices at 475 Riverside Drive, New York City.

The CWS statement was based upon recent Presidential directives that edible oils be added to the list of surplus commodities available for overseas feeding programs and that "phase-out" policies of recent years be relaxed. Bishop Newell also made public the text of a telegram sent by him — under instructions of the Board of Managers of CWS at its recent annual meeting in Atlantic City — to George McGovern, director of the U.S. Food for Peace program.

The telegram to Mr. McGovern said: "Your advice to us of the administration's order for the release of edible oils to voluntary agency overseas feeding programs — so long and drastically needed — is extremely gratifying, as is your instruction to relax the mandatory program 'phase-out' policies we have long felt to be inconsistent with the principles of Christian compassion."

"We are immediately preparing figures for your office setting forth program requirements for the newly available edible oils and for other commodities affected in program expansion where 'phase-out' restrictions may be eased. 'I have been asked by the Board of Managers of Church World Service to express to you and to the President its deepest gratification for his and your understanding of and response to the cry of need arising from all parts of a hungry world."

"Our most fervent prayers are with you as, in the days ahead, you strive to bring to the world peace among all men, all children of the One Eternal God."

The new edible oils — mainly expected to be from soybeans and cottonseed — will have great value in programs throughout the East, in Africa and in South America, Bishop Newell said.

Relaxation of "phase-out" policies, he felt, could have marked voting in 1962 when a governor, U.S. Senator and other important officials will be chosen."

He said that while the emphasis will be on those three normally big Democratic counties, "the anti-fraud drive will be promoted throughout Pennsylvania."

Local Elections Called Important

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's Republican leaders are telling the party's rank-and-file that success in this year's local elections is vital to victories in the crucial 1962 statewide balloting.

That was the world passed on to the Young Republicans' organization by State Chairman George I. Bloom and other leaders at a meeting here over the weekend.

Bloom emphasized that the outcome of local elections next fall would influence how the party fares in the election of a governor and U.S. Senator next year.

Elkins Wetherill, director of precinct organization for the GOP state committee, urged that an intensive voter registration drive be undertaken in each of the 67 counties during the coming months. Wetherill, who also is chairman of the Montgomery County commissioners, said he planned to visit every county to help local organizations in their precinct organization.

Wins Golf Club Title, Enters Army

PARIS DESIGNS SIMILAR TO THE 1920 FASHIONS

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS (AP)—Most of the women who will wear them got their first look at the latest fashions from Paris today.

If they agree with enthusiastic buyers this season, Paris can rack up another popular success.

The designers are out to please with a breezy, easy silhouette—easy to wear, easy on the eyes, but definitely not easy to copy. Men are supposed to like short skirts, so they should be happy, too.

FLAPPER OF '20S

Reports from the end of January openings often mentioned the flapper or 1920s trend, particularly in the top-of-the-season collections of Dior and Ricci. But pictures from the openings, released today for publication, prove that the designers are not merely copying a worn-out style, but interpreting it in a way that looks new and modern. Resemblance to the 1920s comes in short skirts, often showing a glimpse of the knees, and in a waistless or long, loose-waisted look.

Pierre Cardin cut his cloth looser than anyone else for his off-the-figure sarongs. Lanvin's Castillo bucked the general trend for low-flaring skirts with his down-tapering "ace of diamonds" silhouette.

One thing all the designers agree on is a fitted neckline, and with one or two minor exceptions, a flat-chested look which also harks back to flapper fashions.

FRESH, PALE COLORS

The breezy, wind-blown air that all the designers tried for is carried out in pleated and flared short skirts with blousy semi-fitted tops, and in such thin, airy materials as silk crepes, chiffons and organzas.

The fresh, pale colors add to it, too: pinks, peach, apricot, mint and lime green, absinthe and daffodil yellow, cherry red, light blues and white, with some black and white combinations and pale beige, gray and navy for day wear.

The designers can take polka dots or leave them alone. Patou and Balmain sprinkled in a few giant spots. Floral printed chiffons are so pretty they seldom failed to draw applause. One of the most attractive ideas is floral chiffon dresses with matching unlined coats, highly transparent and really light as a breeze.

But he'll carry with him memories of a great victory in the tournament final here Sunday.

Louisiana Will Pay Teachers

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—The state administration, in a compromise move, Monday turned over $2 million to help pay all New Orleans school teachers, including those at two integrated schools.

State Treasurer A. P. Tugwell said he advanced that much in homestead exemption refunds.

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis administration last week had reported Tugwell was expected to provide the funds.

The fiscal step marked the end of the fifth straight special session Davis had called to fight the inroads of integration at the William Frantz and McDonough No. 19 elementary schools in New Orleans.

SAYS PROBLEM IS CREATING JOBS FOR MANY

By NORMAN WALKER
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—

President Kennedy's top labor advisor says that creating 26 million new jobs in the next decade is the nation's No. 1 domestic problem.

Arthur J. Goldberg, secretary of labor, made that assertion at a banquet given in his honor Sunday night by AFL-CIO labor union officials whom he formerly served as a chief legal counsel.

Goldberg's estimate of future employment needs means that more than one new job will have to be created by the end of the next decade for every one of the approximately 65 million jobs existing today.

Goldberg said that widespread unemployment and dwindling job opportunities are high on the list of "unfinished business inherited by the present administration."

COMING TO LIGHT
"All the things that have been swept under the rug during the past eight years are rapidly coming to light," he said.

Goldberg agreed with George Meany, AFL-CIO president, that finding jobs for the rapidly increasing work force and for workers displaced by new production techniques is a problem of major proportions.

The labor secretary told newsmen on his arrival here that Congress is speeding up its procedure to push Kennedy's proposals ahead. He said he hoped Kennedy's first major job will pass the House this week—a proposal for $1 billion extra unemployment compensation aid.

Human Space Man Is Former Jet Pilot, Happy With Job

EDITOR'S NOTE — Like other kibitzers on the cape, John Herschel Glenn has watched many a rocket shot, never ceasing being impressed by the spectacle. His interest is personal. He's one of the three men selected for America's first manned space flight. This is the first of three articles on the trio.

By HOWARD BENEDICT
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — In the gray dawn one day this spring—if all goes according to plan—a good-looking young man will walk across the concrete deck of launch pad 26A with the bright lights of this spaceport gleaming on his silver space suit.

He'll climb the stairs of a red and white tower to a cramped, bell-shaped capsule. He'll wiggle through the hatch and settle into a couch fitted to every contour of his body.

The hatch will close, and his earphones will buzz as the count-down progresses on the 63-foot Redstone rocket beneath him.

When the seconds tick away to zero, he will feel a tremendous jolt as the powerful Redstone engine ignites.

16-MINUTE FLIGHT
If all goes right, the capsule will hurtle 115 miles high and land 200 miles down the Atlantic tracking range 16 minutes after blastoff. Peak speed will be 4,200 miles an hour.

This young space pilot will become the man of the hour. His name will be recorded in headlines and history books.

The glory will go to one of three men: John Herschel Glenn Jr., Virgil Ivan Grissom or Alan Bartlett Shepard Jr. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has selected this trio to train for the United States' first manned suborbital flight, expected in April or May. All are brilliant men, skilled test pilots and extraordinary physical specimens.

IKE DENIES STATEMENTS BY SENATOR

By GEOFFREY GOULD
WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower Sunday night disavowed an inaccurate and regrettable fellow Republican's statement that Eisenhower is critical of the direction President Kennedy's administration is taking.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., talked with Eisenhower for an hour recently at his Palm Springs, Calif., vacation spot. In a news letter he sends to constituents, Mundt Sunday gave his impression of Eisenhower's views.

"He is critical of the tendencies thus far evidenced by the JFK administration—too much left of center; too partisan; too slanted toward programs supported by union bosses," Mundt wrote.

DISAVOWS STATEMENT
Mincing no words, Eisenhower issued this disavowal through a secretary:

"Sen. Mundt's statement as reported to me Sunday evening does not accurately describe either my views on public affairs or my personal plans, and I very much regret its issuance.

"The senator evidently intended to repeat in detail our private and purely social conversation, but his recollection of the many subjects mentioned and his interpretations differ markedly from my own.

"Especially I regret the assessment attributed to me of the performance of my successor and his administration, on which subject I have formed no judgment.

IKE'S POSITION
"Moreover, I have always directed my public criticism to ideas and programs—never to individuals. While in that conversation and on prior occasion I have expressed opposition to certain of the pledges in the platform adopted in Los Angeles, I have likewise expressed the earnest hope of every loyal American that the future actions of the new administration will promote the overall welfare of the United States."

Mundt could not be reached Sunday night for comment on Eisenhower's statement.

The Mundt news letter also said Eisenhower was disturbed by Kennedy's statements that the economy is in trouble.

Crevice Endangers Cynwyd Residence

The crack which developed Sunday was a foot wide and extended half way up the 200-foot slope of the quarry. It runs between two deeper cracks which developed last week.

BRUISED BODY OF LOST GIRL IS FOUND SUNDAY

NEW YORK (AP)—The search for pretty little Edith (Googie) Klecorius is over.

Another has taken its place—a nationwide manhunt for the murderer of the 4-year-old girl.

Edith's half-clad, bruised body was found Sunday in a shabby rooming house only hours after her widowed mother had prayerfully insisted, "No one can hurt such a beautiful child."

A medical examiner said Edith apparently had been beaten to death but an autopsy was ordered to determine the exact cause. The girl was sexually assaulted. The examiner approximated the time of death as last Wednesday—the day the child disappeared from in front of her uncle's home just two blocks away.

SEEK TOOTHLESS MAN

Accompanying the nationwide alarm was a description of the toothless, middle-aged man who rented the room Feb. 17 and was last seen an hour before the child vanished. Police said the man registered at the drab West Side rooming house under the name Fred Thompson. He was described as about 50 to 55 years old, 5 feet, 3 inches tall and weighing 140 to 150 pounds.

Edith, her mother, Mrs. Alvines Klecorius; her grandmother, Frances Duclat, and her brother, Albin, 10, were visiting her uncle, Manuel Duclat, at his Eighth Ave. home when she disappeared.

FAIL TO SAVE WRESTLER, 21

POWELL, Wyo. (AP) — Dramatic revival efforts failed to save Douglas Bingham, 21, University of Utah champion wrestler, after he suffered a heart attack during a match Saturday night with a Wyoming grappler.

Bingham collapsed while wrestling in a 130-pound match with Dave Eddington.

Dr. Ray Christensen, among the 600 spectators, hurried to Bingham's side and ordered him carried to a dressing room. The doctor opened Bingham's chest with a pen knife and began manual heart massage.

Bingham's teammates alternated giving mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. An ambulance took him to Powell War Memorial Hospital where four teammates donated blood for three transfusions.

Shortly afterward Bingham's heart stopped and direct heart massage was applied again. But he was pronounced dead at 1 a.m.

Bingham, co-captain of the team, was Skyline Conference champion in his weight last season. He leaves his widow and two boys and a girl.

Cold hard cash has given way in importance to warm soft credit.

Money is disappearing from public life. You hardly see it any more.

Remember when you were impressed by someone with a bulging wallet, you'd whistle and say, "He has a roll big enough to choke an ox"? Today the roll a real big shot carries would hardly give hiccups to a mosquito.

CREDIT CARD COMPANY
A man is no longer known by the company he keeps, but by the number of credit cards that keep him.

Anyone who flashes a big wad of bills now is automatically put down as a pitiful showoff, a bookie or a counterfeiter.

Sensible counterfeiters must have quit making fake money years ago and turned to manufacturing fake credit cards. That would seem to be the real mass market.

The trend away from the public use of money must have had other impacts on the criminal world.

PICKPOCKET TRADE
Veteran pickpockets still filch hundreds of men's wallets each year in Manhattan, but they must be merely the force of habit or because they are simply too old to learn a new trade. In most cases they could probably earn more by picking the gold from their own teeth.

There was a time when the working man on payday would carefully hide his earnings in his socks so muggers couldn't rob him on the way home. Not any more. He usually brings his paycheck—or what's left of it after all the deductions—home in his mouth, like a dog fetching the newspaper. He is no longer worth robbing.

BANKERS LIKE MONEY
But the motto of practically everyone else appears to be, "Take the credit and let the cash go."

Only bankers cling to money, as such, in large denominations. They still keep their vaults cluttered with the big green stuff, but this may be merely out of respect for tradition, too.

As space gets more valuable, they may have to buy money shredders to get rid of it, or force Congress to store it somewhere at government expense.

Yes, money itself has become a nuisance. It has lost caste. It has been replaced by that new trinity of financial prestige—the checkbook, the installment plan and the credit card.

Yet now and then we confess to a nostalgic feeling for the days when cold hard cash ruled the land.

With ready money you knew exactly what it would do and how far it would go. But how about ready credit? Just what will it do, and how far will it go?

Money was in style for a long time. It might come back—that's why we sometimes wish we had held on to some.

SEEK TO BLOCK BANK MERGER

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The U. S. Justice Department has filed an antitrust suit aimed at blocking the proposed merger of the Philadelphia National Bank and the Girard Trust Corn Exchange Bank.

The suit was filed Saturday, one day after Ray M. Gidney, the U. S. comptroller of currency, approved the merger. Only approval of the stockholders remained to complete the merger.

Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy said: "The Department of Justice does not consider size of firm or expansion per se to be reason for an antitrust action. However, when growth occurs by acquisition of competition and the result is an immense concentration of power, then the federal government must act."

The proposed bank would have resources of $1.8 billion. It would be the city's largest bank.

Officials at the two banks said they would fight the government suit.

LONDON (AP)—Elizabeth Taylor was recovering from influenza today, and this time the producers of the film "Cleopatra" are worried about their star's illness. Officials said the attack has run its course. Shooting was held up for several months when the U.S. film star suffered a painful illness later diagnosed as meningitis.

FLOODS STRIKE IN SOUTHLAND

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Swollen rivers continued to pour over a stricken Southland Monday, where 10,000 or more persons have been left homeless.

Damage from week-long floods in Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi will run into millions of dollars.

The Red Cross began establishing an emergency field disaster headquarters at Montgomery for flood victims.

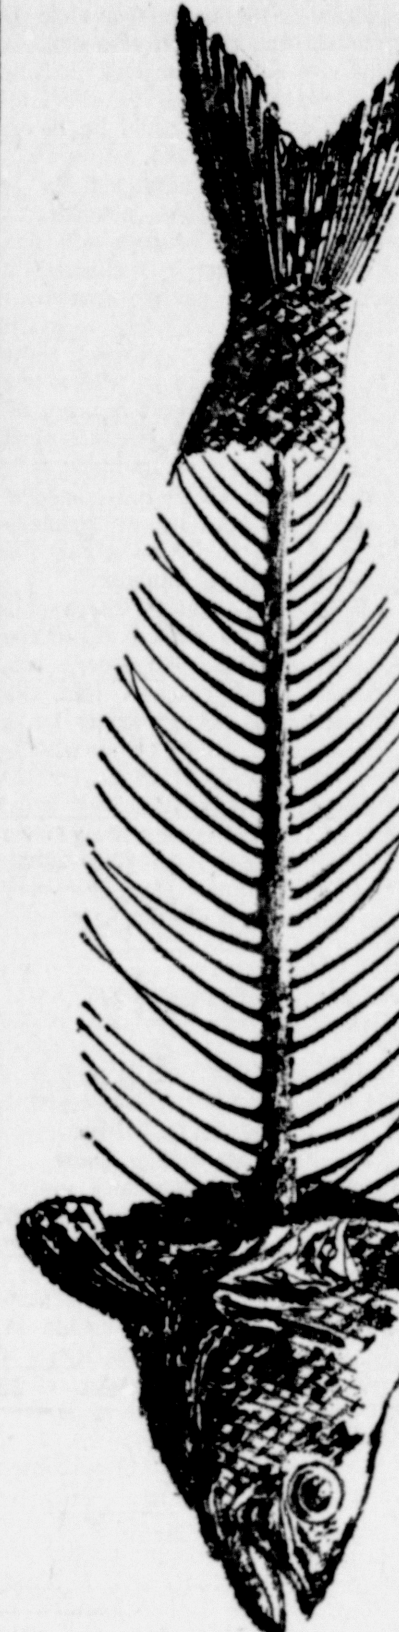

At least 12 persons have died in Southern flood waters caused by torrential rains which lasted most of last week.

Stricken areas at a glance:

Alabama — Montgomery and central Alabama worst hit. At least 3,240 evacuated, including about 1,500 at Montgomery and 700 at Selma. Alabama River at Montgomery reaches record level of more than 23 feet above flood stage. Gov. John Patterson to ask for federal disaster relief.

Mississippi — Hattiesburg worst hit with 3,600 refugees. About 5,000 evacuated in state. Damage estimated up to $10 million. Gov. Ross Barnett appeals to President Kennedy to declare flooded areas major disaster area. Leaf River receding slowly at Hattiesburg.

Georgia — Columbus and West Point on Chattahoochee River at Alabama line suffer most damage. Police at Columbus estimate 1,000 evacuated. About 340 evacuated at West Point. Chattahoochee receding slowly.

NOW! BURN TRASH AND GARBAGE INDOORS IN A GAS WASTE DISPOSER

Do away with bad-smelling garbage cans. End backyard trash-burning. A smokeless, odorless gas waste disposer quietly burns all waste that's burnable indoors—any kind of weather. Set a dial—it starts and stops itself. . . . and pennies a day pay for its operation. See one of these approved gas waste disposers: Basmor, Caloric, Calorator, Disposall, Dura-matic, Kenmore, Majestic, Martin, Modern Way, Warm Morning.

Red Power Moving In On Chile Slowly But Surely

EDITOR'S NOTE — Part of Chile is almost 6,000 miles from Washington. But the things going on in this most distant of Latin American neighbors may soon have repercussions in the United States, for the left is on the march in Chile. This dispatch is the latest of a series of Latin American reports by William L. Ryan.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst
SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — An aggressive combination of Communists and Castro admirers is showing its strength in Chile. It even may be edging toward power.

Ask a wealthy or upper-middle-class Chilean about this, and he replies with a shrug: "After all, they're Chileans first."

Chile's small well-to-do class stands stubbornly in the way of reform. Because most Chileans are tolerant, peace-loving and law-abiding, upper-class elements seem confident there is little to fear from the extreme left's rising strength.

TIDE OF REBELLION

But highly qualified outside observers say Chile's rich either must submit to broad social, economic, and agricultural reforms or be swept aside in an angry tide of rebellion.

These observers say this would have been so even if there had been no Fidel Castro in Cuba. The Cuban revolution gave the left in Chile added momentum. Castroism, in fact, forced the Communist hand.

The small but tightly organized and disciplined Communist party in Chile had been playing a cautious game. It had used the classic approach of allying itself with the middle classes. It had announced itself in favor of nondescript things and had avoided emphasis on seizure and nationalization. It won wide support from impatient young intellectuals.

DEMANDED ACTION

Castroism's rise set a new pattern. The Castroist Socialists demanded action, swift and violent. To capitalize on the impact of Castro, the Communists openly had to confess their all-out Communist aims.

Communists, extremist Socialists and a non-Marxist splinter party joined in the FRAP—Frente Accion Popular or Popular Action Front. Even before Castro took power they came within 40,000 votes of electing a Chilean president in 1958. They now have high hopes of showing significant strength in congressional elections March 5 and of victory in the 1964 presidential elections.

Like much of Latin America, Chile is plagued by inflation. It is harried by a fever to end a hated big landlord system and institute obviously needed land reform. It is struggling with problems of industrialization. It is nagged by one of the worst housing situations in all Latin America. Like many another sister republic, it desperately needs tax reforms.

But Chile's wealthy give one the impression they feel if they close their eyes the threats will vanish.

The intellectual, the university student, the young man eager for reform — powerful forces in a country of 7½ million — make it clear they see the rich as defenders of ancient evils, ultraconservatives devoting themselves to stubborn defense of old abuses.

They make it clear, too, that in their view the United States seems for the most part on the side of the conservatives, the status quo, and that this is a U.S. liability.

"In a very real sense," one earnest Chilean told me, "the administration of President Kennedy is on probation here."

Shot In Chest By His Own Booby Trap

CHICAGO (AP)—Joseph Buglieski's tavern on the Northwest Side had been looted twice recently, so he decided to rig a booby trap with a .30-caliber Japanese rifle to nab any intruders.

The rifle, set up by a series of pulleys and twine, would discharge when anyone opened the tavern's rear door after hours. He also had an electric burglar alarm in the tavern.

Sunday morning Buglieski, 63, was awakened by the electric alarm. He rushed out of the cabin he occupies with his wife at the rear of the tavern and opened the tavern door. The rifle discharged a bullet into his chest.

Detectives said they could not explain why the electric alarm had gone off. There was no evidence of an attempted burglary.

SEE SIGNS OF UPSWING FOR U. S. BUSINESS

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Hopes that the current business slump may be reversed—whether in April or in June—are rising today.

They are still just hopes. But they are built on studies of three ways the economy usually works its way out of any recession. They are:

1. Government spending. This is both in the short-term area of more spending money for the distressed, and in the long-term field of projected spending for larger projects.
2. Business spending. This can be in the immediate area of new orders linked with sales promotion and stepped-up production, or in the longer term area of spending for plants and equipment.
3. Increased consumer buying.

CAUTION STILL RULES

Consumers often are the last to change their ways. Business usually has turned the corner and is well on the way up again before the consumer shakes off his caution and decides to spend rather than save.

This caution still rules, according to a survey by the Federal Reserve Board. This indicates that fewer families now than a year ago plan to buy new houses or home appliances, although slightly more expect to buy new or used cars.

But the survey was taken in January when uncertainty was at its peak. Not only did most people feel at a loss to assay business prospects, but few had any clear notion what to expect when the new administration took over from the old in Washington.

CONFIDENCE REVIVING

A few positive signs that business was looking up again could change consumer attitudes quickly. And personal income totals are still high, if slightly below their peak, and total savings on which to draw are at a record.

In the area of business itself caution still rules actions but reviving confidence is showing at least in the talking and planning stages.

Some prime producers are reporting a slight upward trend in new orders. This could be because stocks have been trimmed to the limit and it's a question of ordering or stop producing. But it could be because sales prospects look better and industry is getting ready for more business in the spring.

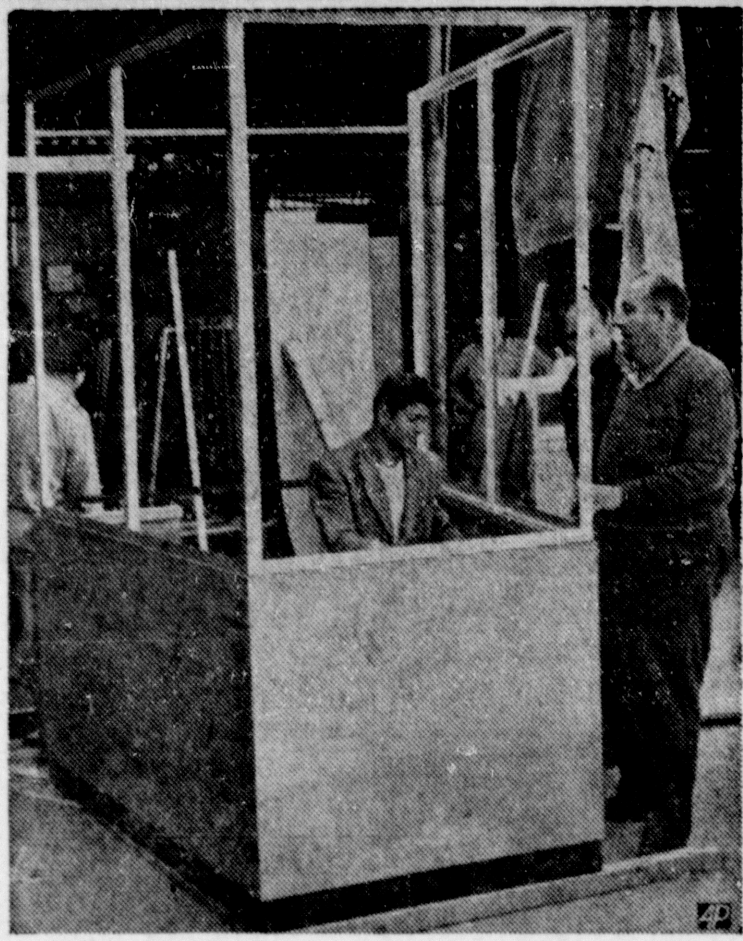

PUMP TO BE PRIMED

In government spending, pump priming seems a sure thing. Just how much is still a question. And just how effective it will be is a matter of sharp debate.

But government spending is sure to rise in some degree. State and local spending continue to rise of their own momentum. The federal government has speeded up spending of money already earmarked to get more cash quickly into channels where it is supposed to circulate freely.

—for education, for natural resource development, for permanent increases in unemployment benefits, medical care, minimum wages—are meeting much opposition in and out of Congress.

Opponents think they will do more harm in the long run than good. They fear a revival of inflation, which would rob the economy of the pump priming benefits.

But proponents say they will nudge the economy out of its slump. The nudge could do the trick—provided it inspired a revival of business and consumer confidence.

JERSEY DATA IS SOUGHT IN BLANEY CASE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Acting Dist. Atty. Paul M. Chalfin says New Jersey authorities have assured him they have evidence other than Robert Russell's story against three people accused of murdering Vincent J. Blaney.

Chalfin said Sunday he had requested the information of the Atlantic County, N.J., district attorney's office so he could know what action to take today in extradition hearings against Lillian Reis, one of the defendants.

Chalfin said Miss Reis, a 32-year-old divorcee and owner of a Philadelphia nightclub, could be held without bail only if New Jersey has a sound first degree murder case against her.

"Therefore, we take the position that Miss Reis cannot be released under any bail pending the outcome of the extradition proceedings," he told a reporter.

Miss Reis' lawyer, John Patrick Walsh, said he would appeal to Quarter Sessions Court to set bail for Miss Reis if Chalfin did not agree to do so.

Miss Reis, John Berkery, 27, of Haddon Township, N.J., and Joseph Dillon, 25, of Philadelphia, now held in San Diego, Calif., have been indicted in the murder of Blaney last Aug. 3.

Blaney was to have testified for the state in a Pottsville, Pa., burglary in the summer of 1959. His body, chained and weighted, was found last Aug. 23 in the sea off Margate, N.J.

SAW MURDER

Russell told police he had seen Berkery and Dillon shoot and kill Blaney. He said Miss Reis told them to dump the body into the sea.

Last Friday night, Russell disappeared from the Absecon City, N.J., jail, where he had been held for his safety. He was picked up three hours later, wet and injured.

Russell told a policeman, who wished to remain unnamed, that three men had kidnapped him from the jail and had taken him to Sculls Bay. He said he escaped by rolling out of the boat.

AWAITS FULL REPORT

In Atlantic City, N.J., Prosecutor Augustine A. Repetto would neither confirm nor deny that Russell had told the story. He would only say that he had ques-

Says Local School Districts Fail In Their Tax Programs

HARRISBURG (AP) — Local school districts on an average are failing to keep pace with the rising costs of public education in drafting their tax programs.

That is the gist of a report issued over the weekend by the research staff of the 30-member Governor's Committee on Education. The group has been researching Pennsylvania's public education needs for a year and is due to make recommendations to the legislature next month.

In its latest report, the committee said the costs of education have been increasing from year to year and so has the proportion of financial aid from the Commonwealth.

GREW 43 PER CENT

The report said the state's share of costs grew from 43 per cent in 1956 to over half of the over-all expense today.

"Such is not the case on the long-cal level," the report noted, adding: "For the average district, the education program did not take precedence over other local government functions in 1958 and it did in 1942."

The report noted that other large states do not pay so great a share of education costs.

HIGHER PERCENTAGE

It said Pennsylvania spends a higher percentage of its budget for education (50.3) than Texas (47.9), California (42.7), Michigan (42.3), New York (37.8), Indiana (29.5), Ohio (28.7), New Jersey (24.1), Illinois (23.8) and Massachusetts (17.7).

The national average property tax rise between 1942 and 1957, the report says, was 190 per cent. In Pennsylvania it was only 90 per cent, according to the report.

Pennsylvania is in the middle in costs to the state per pupil, the report points out, spending $520 per pupil.

"I won't have anything else to say about it until I receive the complete report from the state police investigation laboratory," he added.

Meanwhile, Berkery's lawyer, State Sen. Benjamin R. Donolow of Philadelphia, said he will ask Schuylkill County Court today to quash the burglary indictment against Berkery.
